

“A REVOLUTION OF HER OWN”

On Thursday, April 3rd at 12:30 p.m., Judith Kalaora will perform a one-woman show at the senior center called “A Revolution of Her Own.” The subject of this hour-long program is Deborah Samson Gannett (1760-1820) who was the first woman to enlist, fight in and to be honorably discharged from the American military. Mrs. Samson Gannett came from Plympton, Massachusetts. She was a schoolmarm in Middleborough, but she felt a higher calling when she heard news of the Boston Tea Party, the Boston Massacre and the signing of the Declaration of Independence. So, disguised as a man, she walked to Bellingham and enlisted in the Fourth Massachusetts Regiment of the Continental Army, under the alias “Robert Shurtleiff.” Through the performance of Judith Kalaora, come and experience Mrs. Samson Gannett’s arduous upbringing, 18 months of active combat service, and her success as the first female professional soldier through interactive stories, authentic colonial attire, and military drills. This program is offered through Sage Educational Services and has been partially paid for by our Friends of Foxborough Seniors. Please call the senior center at 508-543-1252 if you plan to attend.

Motorcycles became his obsession and he constantly modified his beloved Indian machine to see how fast he could make it run. In 1967, Munro decided it was time he proved to himself and to the world just what he could make his machine do, and he booked passage for the United States with the goal of breaking the world's land speed record at Utah's Bonneville Salt Flats. As he travels across America to Utah, he makes a handful of interesting friends along the way. After arriving at the salt flats and being told that he's too old to ride and his bike is unsafe, he defies the odds and goes on to set the land-speed world record at the Bonneville Salt Flats in 1967.
