

FOXBOROUGH HISTORICAL COMMISSION

Cultural Resources Inventory

The Town of Foxborough and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts maintain a “Cultural Resources Inventory” of the areas, building and structures in Foxborough that are historically significant. These inventories are used in conjunction with the Town’s Demolition Delay By-Law in determining if a property is classified as “preferably preserved” and efforts should be made to protect the property from demolition. This topic is further discussed under the Demolition Delay By-Law section.

The information included here is from the MACRIS (Massachusetts Cultural Resources Information System) files which are maintained by the Secretary of the Commonwealth and is based on, and mirrors, the Foxborough listing. This list is included because it can be easily accessed on the Commonwealth’s website (<http://mhc-macris.net>) where it can be sorted and searched.

As with all listings of this nature, the information may not be completely current, so any detailed information or questions should be brought to the Commission.
